

Mûr-de-Bretagne / St-Caradec

Carhaix to St-Méen-le-Grand - Cycle Route 6 in Brittany

A greenway allows you to leave the pretty old hilltop town of Mûr-de-Bretagne with ease. You enter a landscape of traditional fields divided by hedgerows. Saint-Caradec, a village at the crossroads with Voie 8 (Route 8) and the Rigole d'Hilvern Channel towpath track, offers a deeply rural stop on this short stage.

The route

As you leave Mûr-de-Bretagne, make sure you follow the signs for the 'Chemin du Petit Train'. Note that the signage showing a white arrow on a green background simply indicates a local cycling circuit. The route is well surfaced and completely separate from motorized traffic. The way is extremely straight in parts. It slopes slightly as it runs parallel to the N 164 road.

Take care: on two occasions you need to cross the busy N 164 road. Note too that the surface on this stage often consists of compacted sand.

Bus
