EuroVelo 15 - The Rhine Cycle Route in Alsace

On this short stage shared by EuroVelo 6 and 15 cycle routes you arrive at the French part of EV15 and the northeastern French region of Alsace. The stage starts where Switzerland, Germany and France meet, near the beautiful Swiss town of Basel. A magnificent footbridge crosses the Rhine, then you follow the Canal de Huningue until north of the town of Kembs and the Kembs-Niffer Lock, designed by the great architect Le Corbusier. Here, the routes divide. The EV15 continues beside the nature reserve of the Petite Camargue Alsacienne marshes and Hardt Forest.

Cycle route

The route is signposted all along with signs for EuroVelo 6 and 15.

Near the start of the stage, after the magnificent footbridge (and cycle-bridge) over the Rhine, and for just 350 metres or so, you need to take a road shared with motorized traffic.

Then the route is free of motorized traffic to Kembs. It runs beside the Canal du Rhône au Rhin, along the well-surfaced towpath, up to Kembs's riverboat stop.
