Short but steady, this stage of the GTR by mountain bike, lightened by descents and restorative flats, reaches the Col de la Croix de Montmain. You leave the vineyards behind and enter the Pyramide forest. The descent after the pass offers fine views. After a short effort, you reach the village of Grandris, where you can enjoy the panoramic views from the top of the village.

The cycle route

The stage begins with a long 8 km ascent to the Col de la Croix de Montmain (approx. 600 m D+) via vineyard paths and then forest trails. This is followed by a 7 km descent to Moulin Dascut and the Azergues river, before reaching Grandris by a final short climb (100 meters D+).
