Relish a sweet sense of freedom along this stage of the Régalante cycle route, taking you mainly along a lovely undulating greenway between Vitré and La Guerche-de-Bretagne. Between these two historic trading towns, cyclists can enjoy peaceful stops at the likes of Argentré-du-Plessis, Torcé or Domalain, great for a picnic or a restorative little pause. Arriving at La Guerche-de-Bretagne, you'll be surprised by the town's beautiful, colourful timberframe houses, its collegiate church and its medieval-style kitchen garden. Note that on Tuesdays, the town comes fully to life with its bustling market, a tradition that's been going strong for over 900 years. For cyclists, it offers a great opportunity for stocking up, making the most of the goodies on offer, gathering strength to continue on your cycling adventure.

The route

A large portion of this stage is on a greenway with a firm surface (for 19km) up to Moutiers. Take care at the following points: at the level of Le Pont d'Ételles, at the junction of the greenway and the RD178 road; a bit before Moutiers, leaving the greenway, crossing the RD178; from the place named La Maison Neuve, on a stretch you share with motorized traffic along the RD11 road, up to the RD178 road on the edge of La Guerche-de-Bretagne (lasting c.5km).
