Leave Dieppe in search of some of the most beautiful little treasures along the Côte d'Albâtre à Vélo stretch. At Varengeville-sur-Mer, push on to the cliffside chapel, with magnificent views over the Channel and close ties to Cubist artist Georges Braque. At Sainte-Marguerite-sur-Mer, take in its famed beach huts along the seafront. Take time at Veules-les-Roses, a member of the association of Les Plus Beaux Villages de France, to explore its riverside lanes. Having enjoyed these Norman gems, continue on to Saint-Valery-en-Caux.

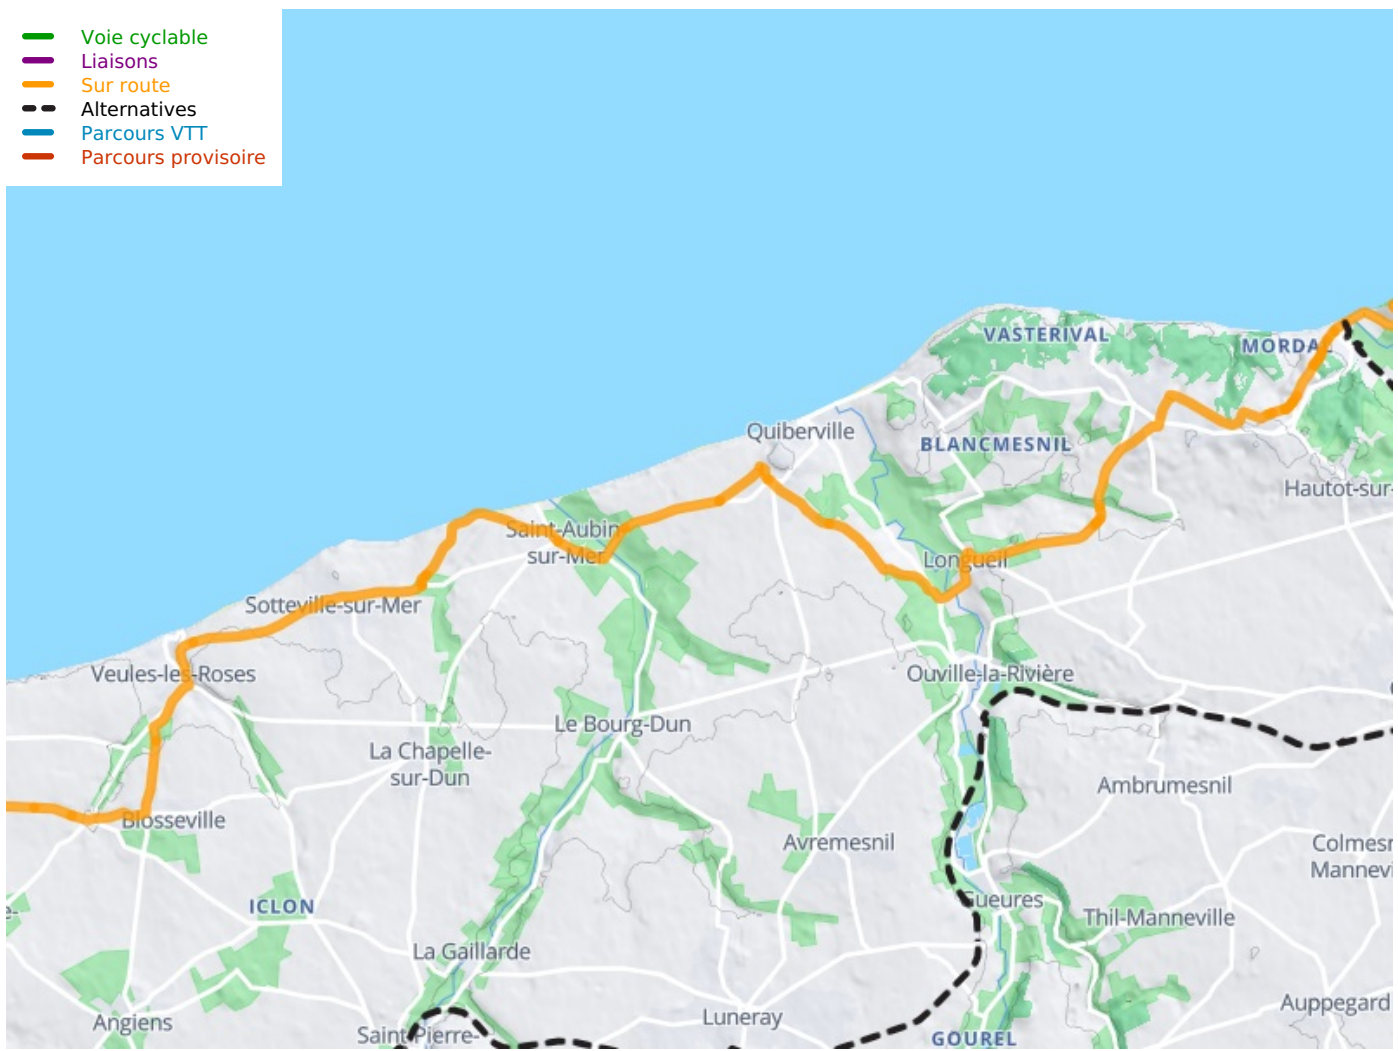

The route

At the level of Hautot-sur-Mer, you have a choice: either follow the EuroVelo 4 route, or plunge into the Pays de Caux's interior, cycling to Fécamp via the Véloroute du Lin. If taking the first option, follow the EV4 signage towards Varengeville-sur-Mer; for the second option, head for the beach car park at Hautot-sur-Mer, where the Véloroute du Lin begins.
