Seaside

You head for the flowery banks of the Léguer Valley on this penultimate stage of the Tour de Manche in the département (county) of Côtes d'Armor. From the cliff route, enjoy the many 'windows' onto the sea. Despite two steep slopes, one to reach Trémeur Point, the other in Lannion's Brélévenez Quarter, this stage is suitable for family outings.

The Route

Mainly following small roads. There's just one little section of rural greenway south of Trébeurden.

One safety issue to point out: on the road to Serval, when traffic busy.

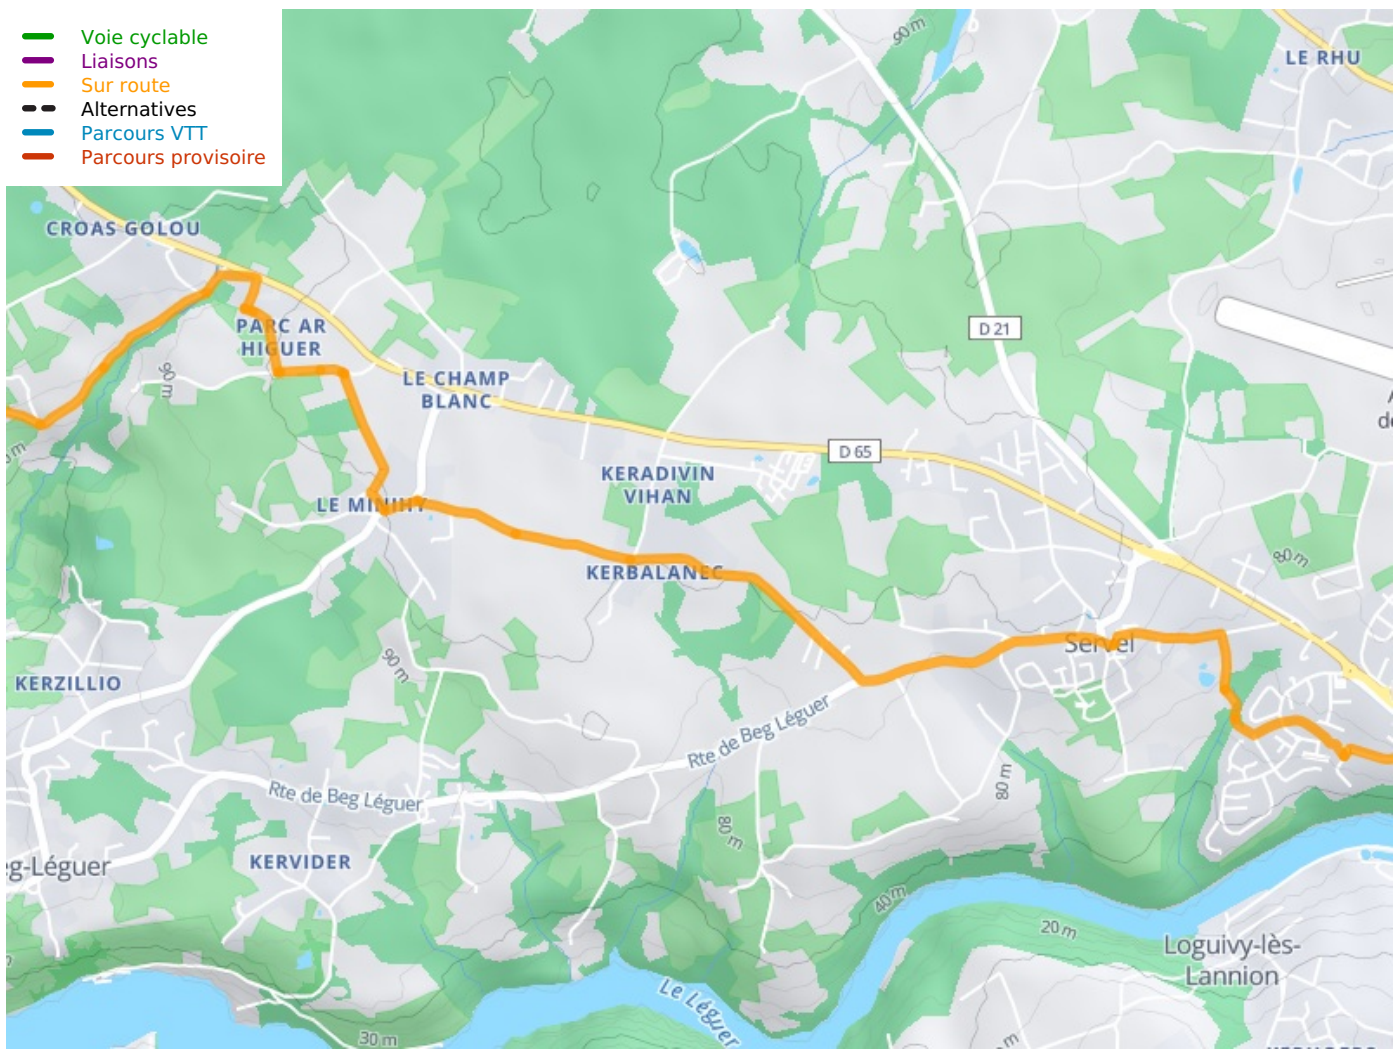

Links

The slope is especially steep (16-18%) to reach Beg Léguer Beach.
