

Bains-les-Bains / Corre

La Voie Bleue - Moselle-Saône valley by bike

□

Départ

La Vôge-les-Bains

Arrivée

Corre

Durée

1 h 51 min

Distance

27,43 Km

Niveau

I begin / Family

Thématique

Canals & intimate rivers

Leaving the Vosges thermal spa resort of Bains-les-Bains, continue on your picturesque adventure, riding along the Canal des Vosges and the Coney Valley. This stage of La Voie Bleue crosses the Vosges Forest, characterized by spruce, beech and maple. Once in the département (or French county) of Haute-Saône, cycling along the verdant ribbon of the canal, you come across the unusual manual swing bridge at Selles that makes it easy to let boats through.

The route

The way is well laid out and easy, following the towpath along the Canal des Vosges.

Link Bains-les-Bains - La Voie Bleue

You can reach La Voie Bleue from Bains-les-Bains via the D164 road, or via the D434 (and Le Grurupt Lock).

Link to La Rochère

Downstream from Selles, the greenway called the 'Voie Verte des Tuileries' allows you to reach Passavant-la-Rochère, where you can visit the crystal glass works at La Rochère and meet glassblowers who beat, blow and shape glass.

Link to the EuroVelo 6 cycle route

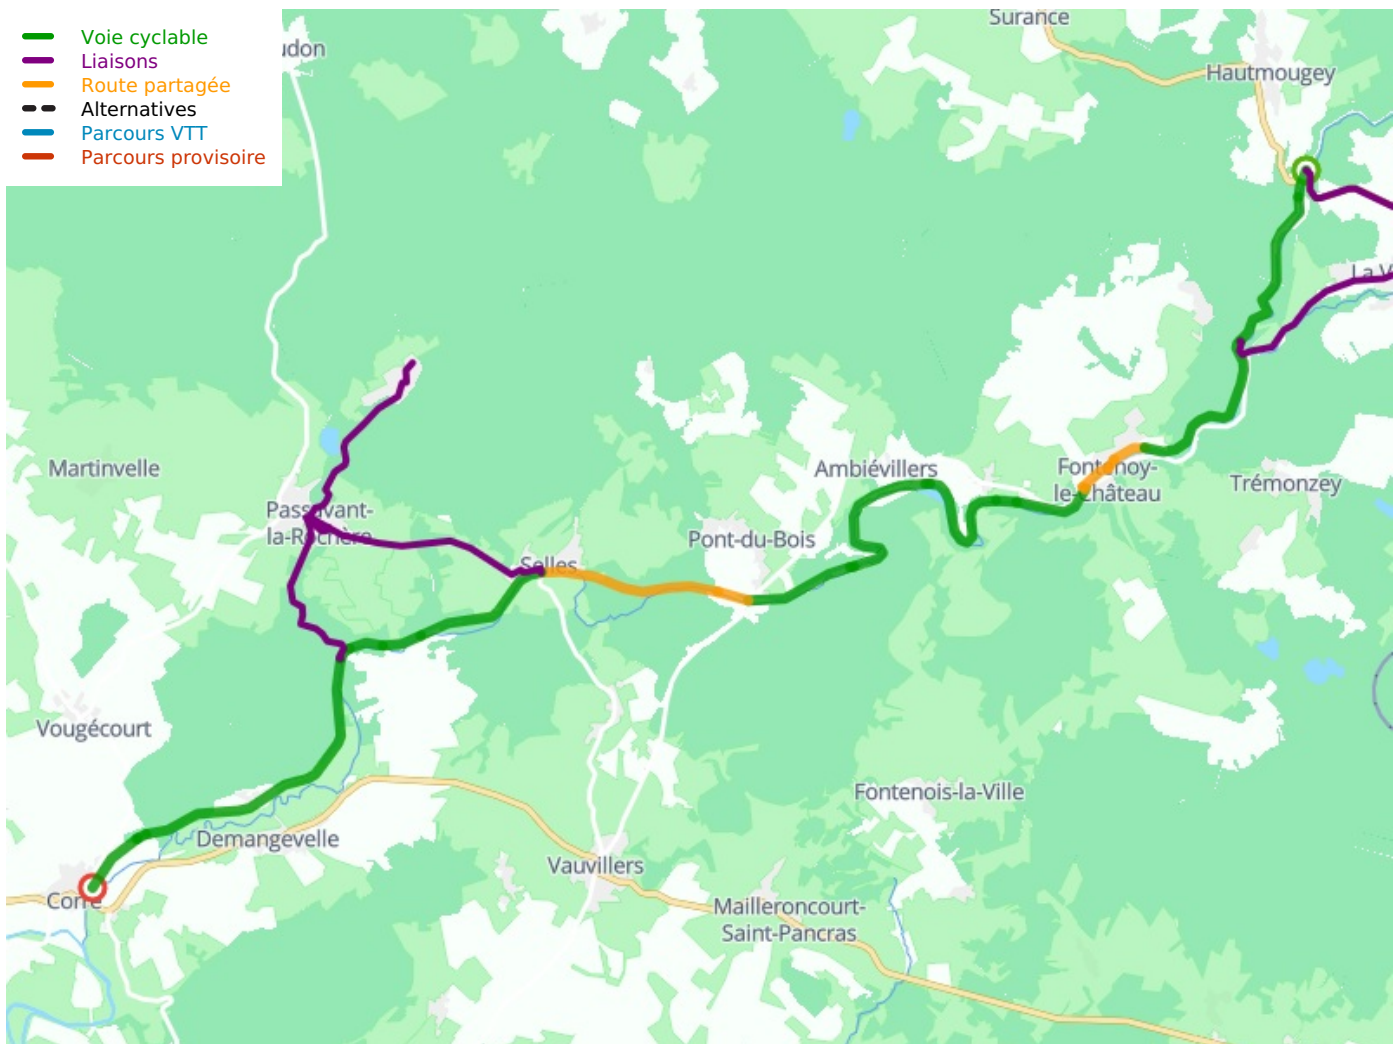

At the level of Selles, this link takes you on a road shared with motorized traffic between La Voie Bleue and the EV6 cycle route, joining the latter at Belfort. Going this way allows you to explore the thermal spa resort of Luxeuil-les-Bains and the Plateau des 1000 Etangs (with its very many lakes!).

SNCF (French national railways network)

TER line Epinal <> Bains-les-Bains <> Belfort

Don't miss

- La Forge de Thunimont: former spinning mill City of Fontenoy le Château: Marina, cobbled streets, castle, Lombard tower.
- Selles: Manual swing bridge
- Passavant-la-Rochère: La Rochère glassworks with its glassblowers - the oldest glassworks still in operation since 1475.
- Jonvelle: Gallo-Roman site.
- Corre: ancient floating centre located in the upstream basin of the Saône. Marina and small private port with restaurant.

Départ
La Vège-les-Bains

Arrivée
Corré

