

Alongside Erdre river

Nantes by bike

Départ Nantes	Arrivée Sucé-sur-Erdre
Durée 1 h 11 min	Distance 17,75 Km
Niveau I begin / Family	Thématique Canals & intimate rivers

Making use of the Vélodyssée cycle route, this cycling trip allows you to escape Nantes, benefiting from the peaceful Erdre River on a day out, perhaps with the family, riding as far as the river port of Sucé-sur-Erdre. In summer, at La Chapelle-sur-Erdre, make the most of a stop at the site of La Gandonnière, laid out by architectural practice Fichtre, to enjoy a drink or meal looking over the river.

The route

Start: Nantes Tourisme, opposite the Château de Nantes.

- Short cycling outing, 12km in length, not signposted. Outbound along the Erdre's west bank / returning via the east bank, shortening the trip's overall length by taking the cycle track across the Erdre at the level of La Jonelière railway bridge
- Long cycling outing, 37km in length. Return journey Nantes > Sucé-sur-Erdre using the signposted La Vélodyssée cycle route, plus a potential alternative stretch, not signposted, to discover the Erdre's riverbanks

Places at which to take special care

- Stretch strictly forbidden for bikes between La Grimaudière and La Gandonnière, as it's a protected nature zone
- In the Domaine de la Desnerie, watch out for potholes

After Port-Barbe, there's a slightly difficult climb (with an earth track and shallow steps).

Tourist Office

- Nantes Tourisme: 0892 464 044

SNCF train services

- Tram train line Nantes Nort-sur-Erdre Châteaubriant, accepts bikes on board
- Nantes train station, TER regional trains stopping at La Chapelle-sur-Erdre Centre, La Chapelle-Aulnay and Sucé-sur-Erdre.

Don't miss

- Nantes: Île Versailles (a garden-island); La Jonelière quays
- La Chapelle-sur-Erdre: the Domaine de La Desnerie, with woods; Port de la Grimaudière; the Erdre River at La Gandonnière
- Sucé-sur-Erdre: the port

Départ
Nantes

Arrivée
Sucé-sur-Erdre

