

Boège / La Muraz

P'tites Routes du Soleil

The cycle route continues alongside the Menoge River via the Col des Pitons, heading for Mont Salève (1,335m), a kind of elevated island of greenery rising south of Geneva. The long climb is well worth the effort to enjoy one of the finest views along the whole P'tites Routes du Soleil® route. Perched between the Geneva Plain and the high summits of the département, or French county, of Haute-Savoie, continue along Mont Salève's crest, making the most of the views over Geneva, the Jura Range, the lakes of Geneva and Annecy, and the Mont Blanc Range.

Don't miss

- Geneva: at the southwest tip of the vast Lac Léman, known in English as Lake Geneva, this city is famed as the seat of many international organizations and NGOs. It stands at the heart of an urban area encompassing over 600,000 Swiss inhabitants (so, without counting the French towns just across the border). Geneva is a lovely place to visit, boasting a rich heritage and history.
