From Pacy-sur-Eure, you can enjoy a peaceful bike ride through the pretty villages of Ménilles and Croisy-sur-Eure. Explore the typical landscapes of Normandy as you continue cycling through the magnificent Eure Valley. When you arrive in Acquigny, take the time to admire its Renaissance castle and gardens. In Pinterville, follow the pleasant Seine-Eure greenway, which winds its way along the river for 30 kilometres. After crossing Val-de-Reuil, continue on to the Léry-Poses leisure park, the perfect place to relax during your cycling adventure!

The cycle route

From Pacy-sur-Eure, follow the signs for 'Vallée de l'Eure à vélo' towards Ménilles and Croisy-sur-Eure, taking care on the D65. You will then take quiet little roads between the river, lakes and picturesque villages. At Heudreville-sur-Eure, take the D155E to the old railway station and turn left onto the dirt track through the woods for 1 km; this becomes a greenway to Acquigny. In Pinterville, take the Seine-Eure greenway for 30 km, which runs alongside the river. Cross Val-de-Reuil through the town centre and continue towards the Léry-Poses leisure park.
